Dear Friend:

In reply to your inquiry about the "King Salmon First Day Covers", we are very sorry to report that our very limited supply has been exhausted.

We do however, appreciate your inquiry and are sending you this letter from King Salmon, Alaska, bearing a special PNA Cachete marking, with the hopes that you will perhaps add this envelope to your collection.

Needless to say, the demand for the covers has been overwhelming with thousands of requests being received by Pacific Northern Airlines.

Once again, may we express our regrets that we are unable to supply the unusually heavy demand for the "First Day Covers". Little did we dream it would be so heavy. If we could have foretold the demand, we would have flown thousands instead of a few hundred covers to King Salmon for cancellation.

Yours Truly
PACIFIC NORTHERN AIRLINES, INC.
